Dear Jimmy:

Notes in the local press imply that a Norman Redlich, an employee of the Warren Commission, has been cited as a member of three communistic front organizations. Is this true? If so, can you get the names of these front organizations?

Frankly, the President's death was a great tragedy; however, it should have been investigated as any other murder and the facts published immediately. Why all the delay?

Sincerely,

Martin P. Broderick, Jr.
